Hilltop Witness Says Local Cop There As 'Reefers' Used

Social Security Aids DC Family Of Four

A Daly City widow with her three young daughters were the first persons to receive Social Security checks through the new Social Security District Office located at 2747 Mission street in San Francisco.

At her home at 6458 Mission street in Daly City, Mrs. Marjorie Lynch was presented with two checks totalling $455.10 by Mrs. Marcia Leton Kahn, manager of the Social Security district office which now serves residents of Daly City.

Mrs. Lynch is the widow of Clyde R. Lynch, foreman at the Adams Paint Company for eight years, who died on October 8. Mr. Lynch is also survived by his daughters Sharon, 13, Susan, 6, and Linda, 3.

Mrs. Lynch stated that she knew her husband had a Social Security number and because he had contributed she would receive something, but she was surprised to learn that she and her three young daughters would receive $200 a month. The checks for $455.10 which she received this week represent a lump sum death payment of $255, a monthly payment for October to Mrs. Lynch of $60 and to the three daughters of $140.10. The benefits will continue until the children reach age 18, although the widow's payments would cease if she remarries. When the youngest daughter reaches 18, the widow's payments stop but will be resumed again when she reaches

Witness the case of MRS. DAVID T. WOODRUFF, 100 East Moltke, apt. 28, who has applied to Army authorities for permission for her and her 11-year-old daughter to live with her husband, a major stationed at Post Shiroi outside Tokyo.

Seems there's a housing shortage there so it's no soap to bring in the families unless you've got housing facilities for them.

Major Woodruff and 21 other military associates have devised a solution.

They've requested the Army to allow Japanese contractors to enter the picture and build them 22 homes.

So be it, said Army authorities and Mrs. Woodruff and daughter are now awaiting the time when they can move into one of the two bedroom homes which, believe it or not, are going on the open market at $2000 per.

MINOR HURTS TO TWO IN SUNDAY MISSION MISHAPS

A pair of Mission street auto accidents Sunday afternoon resulted in minor injuries to two persons.

The first mishap occurred at 3 p.m. on Mission street 200 feet north of the Knowles intersection.

Police said the accident occurred when Mary Lou Murchison, 21, of 6654 A Mission street, travelling south on Mission, was distracted when one of her children started to fall from the seat.

She reached over to protect the child and lost control of her vehicle, police said, striking parked cars owned by Jack Nino Lopez, 38, of 50 San Diego, and George Francis Folsom, 60, of 1325 Cayuga, both of San Francisoc.

Lopez' wife, Vera, 28, seated in the parked car at time of the smash-up, was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for shock.

Mrs. Murchison was cited by police for failure to have an operator's license in her possession.

Forty-five minutes after the Murchison crack-up, police reported a three-car collision at the Mission-Vale streets intersection.

OK 2-POINT PROGRAM ON VALLEY DRAINAGE

Ed Smith Monday night outlined a three-point emergency drainage program to stop flood damage in the First and Valley streets area.

He listed three recommendations, two of which he said should be carried out immediately to handle winter rains.

They were: Reconstruction of catch basins along Mission street with long throat curved inlets and a change of grading on the drains; opening up of Valley street with wide throat basin at the southwest corner of Valley and First street.

His third proposal was extension of the 18-inch storm drain on Mission to the existing riser basin on Mission.

Smith explained the first two projects probably would cost less than $600 and he recommended they be carried out immediately.

The third job, he said, would require advertising for bids since it would probably cost in excess of $3500.

"If we can intercept the rain water on Mission at the Garibaldi and Castle street intersections I think we can all but eliminate the flooding," Smith said.

The engineer pointed out that, "excessive water on Mission street is the cause of the flooding in the First and Valley area. According to Smith, the old-type catch basins fail to operate properly during times of heavy water flow.

"The water simply skips over the old basins and jumps the curbs," Smith pointed out.

The council moved to start the first two projects immediately and ordered the city administrator to check into possibility of securing state aid on the third program.

"SABOTEURS" HIT BRUNSWICK JOB

It almost appears that somebody has "something agin" completion of the long-delayed Brunswick street extension project.

After two years of cave-ins, law-suits and countless wrangles among contractors, property owners and present and past city officials, the council last month awarded contract for completion of the job to extend Brunswick street through Hillside boulevard.

The contractor, Oscar C. Holmes Co., who only recently moved equipment on the job site, reported Friday afternoon that a 'cat' left at the scene had been "sabotaged."

Culprits broke out the glass from the machine's guages and damaged the guages, then removed the gas cap and put sand in the tank.

Tour Of Taverns Ends In Robbery. Woman Tells Police

Strong-arm robbers stole an estimated $40 cash from a Daly City woman early Sunday morning after they had accompanied their victim on a two-hour tour of north county taverns, according to a story told police by the victim.

Edith Lorraine Finnegan, 40, of 236 Wyandotte, Daly City, told police that two men, described as about 20 years of age, met her at a bar at 6296 Mission Street Saturday about 11 p.m.

According to the woman, the pair offered her a ride home and she accepted. En route to her home, the woman related, she offered to buy them a drink at a tavern at Hillside boulevard and Castle street. After the trio had each had two drinks the men then drove her to Half Moon Bay, she charged.

The woman said that from Half Moon Bay the men drove back up coast highway and stopped at a bar located just outside Daly City limits on the coast route about 1 a.m. Sunday, declaring that they wanted to have another drink.

At that time, she told police, they took her wallet, forced her out of the car and sped away down Skyline at a high rate of speed.

Monday, however, the wallet was returned to the woman by mail, minus the cash.

BIZARRE MOTEL ASSAULT CASE AGAIN DELAYED

In one of the most prolonged cases in Broadmoor police district's history, legal action against Merle McDaniel, 32, of San Francisco was continued to next Tuesday by Municipal court this week.

The woman originally filed complaint against Woodrow Wilson Whittaker, 36, also of San Francisco, in September, claiming that on September 4 he committed assault and battery on her at an El Camino motel outside of Colma.

It was several days after the alleged incident before the woman could sign complaint against Whittaker because of severe injuries inflicted on her, police said.

After numerous continuances, the case was set for September 28 in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's muni court.

Miss McDaniel was scheduled to appear at that time and testify against Whittaker on the assault charge. She failed to show up.

The case was re-set for October 28 but Miss McDaniel again failed to apear to testify for the state against Whittaker.

A supoena was issued by the court, ordering Miss McDaniel to appear as a witness against Whittaker November 16. This time she showed up, but when placed on the witness stand she refused to testify against Whittaker and wanted to drop charges.

For this Judge Bocci levied a contempt of court charge against the woman, setting bail at $250, and she was scheduled to be arraigned on the count Tuesday.

Miss McDaniel put in her appearance Tuesday but asked for continuance because her attorney was unable to be on hand, thus adding another to the already legendary postponements in the case.

TRANSFER $34,636 IN WATER REVENUE

A total of $34,636.05 city water works fund money was transferred to the general fund Monday night by resolution of the council.

Councilmen explained the money was to re-imburse the general fund for money spent over the past year for water department improvements.

Another transfer approved was for $25,000, which went into the revenue replacement and extension fund and will be placed in a time deposit to gain interest for the city.

Under the water revenue bond passed in 1953, a certain amount of money must be placed in the extension fund each year to take care of future improvements and replacements.

Parking Authority Forwards Proposal

A plan for off street parking located adjacent to the shopping areas and tied in with public transportation was recommended to the city council by the parking authority Monday night.

The council agreed to meet with parking authority members this Monday to study the proposal further, with a possibility of passing a two-hour parking law as a temporary measure to ease congested streets.

PYRAMID CLUBS ILLEGAL, SAYS DA SORENSON

In the midst of a revival of "Pyramid Club" activity here and throughout the Bay Area recently, district attorney Keith Sorenson this week delivered a formal opinion concerning the legality of their operation.

In a letter to Daly City Police Chief Roland Petrocchi, Sorenson said, "We believe that the games constitute lotteries and are prohibited by the penal code sections 319 to 326. Said sections make participation therein illegal and punishable as misdemeanors. The result of the organizations and operations of such Pyramid Clubs is that a few people are enriched at the expense of a great many citizens in the county."

Large payoffs from the clubs were reported made recently to several citizens in Daly City.

Sorenson, in his letter, stated, "It appears that these organizations have developed fast and are spreading rapidly throughout this county."

Police Chief Asks Motorists' Help On Safe Driving Day

Chief of Police Petrocchi today asked for help.

"Yes, I'm asking for help," Chief Petrocchi said. "I am asking every driver and pedestrian in Daly City to help reduce traffic accidents to a minimum—zero, if we can—on December 15, S-D Day (Safe Driving Day).

"I am asking every man, woman and child who uses the streets to accept full personal responsibility for observing the letter and spirit of all traffic regulations.

"S-D Day is being observed all over the country. It is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety and hundreds of local, state and national organizations to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially if we all pitch in. We're going to give S-D Day our full support in Daly City, but it's a program in which we must all participate.

DENNIS ASKS SIGNALS AT MISSION-SCHOOL

Automatic traffic signals at the Mission-School streets intersection were urged Monday night by councilman Edward Dennis.

Dennis said traffic was so heavy at times "You can't turn north or south on Mission from School street."

Councilman Sanford Vickers said. "As long as we're taking up traffic control how about the Knowles-Mission crossing?"

City Administrator Dan Andersen said approval of the state would have to be granted in order to have automatic signals at either spot.

SMOKED MARIJUANA AT BAR -- GRAHAM CLAIMS

"Hophead" activity at Daly City's Hilltop Lodge became so "bold" on occasions between March and August of this year that four persons were seated at the bar smoking marijuana reefers while a Daly City policeman stood by.

This was highlight of testimony given Friday by Eddie Graham, convicted narcotics offender, at a state board of equalization hearing Friday in Redwood City charging that a "disorderly house" has been maintained at the Hilltop Lodge, operated by George Kirchhubel and George Pallas.

Only Witness

Graham, who has spent most of his last seven years in penal institutions, was the only witness to be questioned by Norbert Falbey, acting district liquor control administrator, and John J. Fahey, attorney for the lodge owners, during three-hour session.

Six Daly City police officers were on hand but only Officer Bruno Conci was called to testify. He appeared as witness on an earlier hearing on the charges that the Lodge sold liquor to a minor on October 3.

Fahey, after lengthy cross-examination of Graham, told board referee Ivores R. Dains that it would probably take another full day's hearing to complete his questioning of witnesses. Next session of the hearing is tentatively set for early December.

Common Place

Graham, who told the hearing group that he first made his "acquaintance" with marijuana at the Hilltop Lodge in March, 1954, said buying, selling and smoking of the "reefers" was a common place thing at the be-bop hangout.

In one hour of matter-of-fact questioning by Falbey, Graham calmly told of buying several cans of marijuana and rolling his own cigarettes, selling some and smoking a sizeable quantity himself.

Fahey, a Daly City attorney, concentrated his two-hour cross-examination attack on discrediting the witness' testimony.

"As far as you know there could have been horse manure in those cigarettes." Fahey lashed out to Graham's statement that the reefers were smoked at the bar, near the juke box and in the bathroom.

Asks Identification

Fahey also attempted to disprove Graham's allegations by asking him for definite identification of the persons with whom he bought and sold the marijuana.

Graham identified one purveyor as James "Geronimo" Acevez, now serving a San Quentin term for possession of narcotics.

Others he identified only by first name or by nick-name after repeated hammering by Fahey.

A witness who may bear out Graham's lengthy admissions, how-

Hold Up Reservoir Roof Bids; Smith Says Figures High

Awarding of contract for installing a new roof at Daly City Reservoir No. 3 was held over Monday night by the council to determine why the figures were so much above the engineer's estimate.

City Engineer Edwin Smith had estimated the project would cost about $10,000.

Both of the two proposals submitted were in excess of $16,000. L. J. Canetta company offered a price of $16,675 while the other bidder, Pearson & Johnson, entered a $16,996 figure.

"I don't know why it should cost that much," Smith said, "but they must be legitimate bids because they're both so close." He indicated that the time of year might have something to do with the high cost.

OK Permanent Jobs For Four City Employees

Permanent appointment of four city employees was approved by the city council Monday night while another person was appointed to the city payroll on a probationary period.

A. Bender and F. Rehe Jr., were named permanent in the water department, effective November 16, on recommendation of water superintendent Charles "Gus" Ford.

Police sergeant August Benassini was appointed permanent to that position, effective November 16, by recommendation of the police chief, while officer R. Brohman was certified as permanent on OK of the police commission, effective July 16, time when his one-year probationary period was completed.

Arthur Castagnola was named to a probationary position as a city gardener.

Bomb Threat Maniac Hits Daly City Home

The "bomb scare" maniac struck in Daly City this week.

Capping a series of Bay Area calls about bombs planted in homes and public places, an unidentified man Saturday night at 10:20 o'clock telephoned Mrs. L. De Fanti, 299 Wellington, mother of Daly City head librarian, Lorraine Rollandi, and said that a bomb was set to go off in Mrs. De Fanti's house in ten minutes.

Daly City police were summoned to investigate but there was no basis to the threat.

CHILD RUSHED TO HOSPITAL AFTER SWALLOWING POISON

One-year-old Loretta McNulty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McNulty, 66 Parkview avenue, was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital by Daly City police Friday afternoon after swallowing a portion of Hexol.

Attendants pumped the child's stomach out and she was reported in good condition following the treatment.

New Hearing Slated On Subdivision Law

Public hearing Monday on Daly City's proposed subdivision ordinance found representatives of two public utilities, one builder, a civil engineers' and a contractors' group protesting certain sections of the legislation.

As a result of protests on certain phases of the statute, the council agreed to hold a special meeting next Wednesday with interested parties and hear recommendations.

Mayor Joseph Verducci appointed Councilmen Sanford Vickers and Micheal De Bernardi as the council's representatives to the special session. He also called on the planning commission, interested department heads and other persons affected by the ordinance to appear at the meeting.

"Suggestions Worthwhile"

"We feel these criticisms and suggestions are worthwhile," Verducci said.

Main suggestion of the utilities, PG&E and PT&T, was that the ordinance state the planning commission "shall" order copies of tentative maps sent to all utilities. The ordinance now states the commission "may" do so.

Also discussed was a section of the ordinance which requires that easements for overhead wire lines shall be provided at the rear of "all lots."

Utilities representatives maintained that there should be some leeway on this and the law should stipulate wire lines "in residential areas."

Builders Protest

Builders William and Ricco Lagomarsino submitted a lengthy written protest, substance of which was that minimum front footage demands should not be rigidly enforced in older sections of the city that were planned for development with smaller fronts.

They also objected to the section which says the planning commission may order residential developers to set aside certain portions of their property for park and playground sites.

According to the Lagomarsinos, this would impose certain hardships on some builders.

They also held the clause that requires builders to pay $100 for each fire alarm box installed to be unfair.

Charles Randlett, representative of a civil engineer's group, asked that he be allowed to meet with councilmen and offer some suggestions on the ordinance, as did a Richard Hockley, appearing for Peninsula Contractors association.

Councilman Vickers suggested a new public hearing be set following the Wednesday's meeting with the groups protesting certain phases of the law.

ever, is a state narcotics undercover agent who also supplied Graham with the marijuana and was said to have "worked in" with the "hophead" crowd for several months.

Action to revoke the Hilltop Lodge license, however, is expected to meet an impasse partly because of Graham's testimony about the Daly City officer being on hand at the time of the alleged marijuana smoking.

While Graham is a witness for the prosecution, it appears doubtful that Daly City police will back up his statements, since they would then be admitting that narcotics traffic had been flourishing right in front of them, according to local sources.

This is expected to be Fahey's plan of attack in refuting Graham's charges.

SO BUILDERS CAN HELP CARRY THE LOAD

Plans whereby builders and sub-dividers participate in paying for municipal facilities necessitated by their developments are being acclaimed in hundreds of cities throughout the state.

Theory behind the enforced participation in public projects is that builders themselves have been instrumental in creating the "problem."

Private housing developments are constructed for one purpose—to make money for the developer, a wholly laudable arrangement.

However, in constructing large scale residential areas, the builder is placing an added burden on the city and therefore on the taxpayer.

New developments create a need for new parks, playgrounds, libraries, firehouses, other city facilities and more personnel.

The native citizen rightly feels that he has already contributed substantially through taxes to the building of city facilities adequate to serve him.

Then a new area is brought into the municipality and the taxpayer discovers he is not through paying for facilities, but must help carry the load for a new population segment that has created a new need for city services.

A set fee-per-lot charge to the builder has been instituted in some cities, while other communities leave the amount of the builders' "contribution" up to negotiation by the planning commission or city council.

Under an ideal plan of this type, a builder contributes an amount either in cash or property for each dwelling that will offset the city's cost in supplying all services to the residents of that dwelling.

While these two above-mentioned programs may be equitably applied, we feel that there is a pro-rata solution that would leave no room for quibbling.

This newspaper is of the opinion that the city of Daly City should raise the cost of building permits on dwellings to a figure high enough to offset the cost of facilities needed for each dwelling.

This would mean that a developer would contribute to the city at the time the need was created—the time when the residence is ready for construction and occupation.

Developers arguing against the fee-per-lot plan have a valid objection. A man may be required to pay, for instance, $30 to the city for every lot on a piece of property which he does not intend to develop for 20 years. Un-developed property poses little or no trouble to the municipal machinery.

Those opposed to arbitrary cash or property donations agreed upon by the council or planners also are in the right, we believe. Under this approach, small builders who erect only one or two homes might be overlooked by the city and thus not be made to participate in their share of the city improvement program.

By levying this building "fee" with an instrument of such unquestionable objectivity as a building permit the city would be attacking the problem in the fairest possible manner.

We feel a program requiring builders to help bear their share of the burden through higher permit costs should be immediately incorporated in the building code or in the subdivision ordinance now being considered by the city.

List Five Queries To Be Asked On County CD Survey

Five questions which will be asked by volunteers at homes here and throughout the county next week when a countywide Civil Defense Survey will be made to determine the willingness and capacity of every community to care for San Franciscans in case of enemy atack or devastating natural disaster were announced today.

They are:

1. How many people live in your home?

2. How many dispersed persons including relatives and friends would you be willing to shelter in your home for a period of one to three days?

3. In addition to sheltering dispersed persons in your home, how many other such persons would you be willing to shelter for one to three days in your garage, guest house, house trailer or other similar structure on your property?

4. Would you be willing to provide two simple meals per day to these persons if the food was furnished and the disaster victims helped with the work?

5. How many more persons could you provide two simple meals per day to on the above basis?

The 30 leading export commodities shipped through the San Francisco Customs District in 1953 had a value of $360,355,838.

Mullen, a handicapped youth, is shown in photo selling Christmas cards to members of Friendly 12 club assembled recently at his mother's home. Seated is Mrs. Martha Wegner, while others, left to right, are Mrs. Ann Eason, Mrs. Emma D'Isep and Mrs. Julia Byrne. Mullen is a graduate of Jefferson High school, where he gained many honors for his arts and crafts work.

Ridgely Cummings Reports

WORKING FOR THE CAUSE

If readers of these leisurely essays have wondered about their absence the last few weeks, the explanation is a simple one. The perpetrator just didn't have any leisure.

I was mixed up in the recent election campaign and I don't know of any occupation that can consume more time and energy.

My man was George D. Collins Jr., candidate for State Controller.

George put on an intensive, hard-hitting campaign and came very close to winning. On the basis of unofficial returns he did better than other Democratic candidates on the state ticket but he lost out in the Republican landslide that swept California—just the opposite of what happened elsewhere in the nation.

Native S.F.'an

George Collins is a native born San Franciscan in his middle fifties, a slender, serious-faced little man with a slow thoughtful way of speaking and a pixie-ish sense of humor. A labor attorney, he served 16 years in the state legislature as an assemblyman from the 24th district and could have continued to represent San Francisco indefinitely if he had wanted.

But along last winter George went to the Fresno convention of Democrats and there he was drafted to run for the State Controller's job. His record as assemblyman was so admirable that even his opponents called him "the Conscience of the Legislature." And certainly it was true that George voted for his principles, without fear or favor, letting the chips fall where they might.

From the start the Collins campaign was hampered by lack of funds. During his legislative career he had fought the selfish maneuverings of the oil interests, the liquor interests and the power interests. Consequently he couldn't expect a penny from the boys who were spending the most.

Despite money troubles George traveled in every one of California's 58 counties, making speeches before labor unions, service clubs, and other groups. Everywhere he went he gave an educational talk, telling people what the office of State Controller was, how it operated, and what responsibilities the Controller had.

GOP "Monopoly"

For 63 years the Republicans in California had a monopoly of this office, George told them. The Controller sits on 34 important boards and commissions, some of them dealing with oil leases, water rights, school buildings, liquor control and other matters vital to the public welfare.

I knew George was short of campaign funds because I met him early in the summer riding a bus from Bakersfield to Hollywood. Of course I was riding the bus myself, but writers often are on the light side financially. For politicians to be in the same condition is unusual.

George and I had been old acquaintances in San Francisco some years before, when we used to lock horns in debates at the Commonwealth Club, an organization devoted to examining social and economic problems. On the bus we spent the time discussing his prospects in the primaries. George felt they were good, even though the incumbent had cross-filed and was running on the Democratic slate too.

A few days later in Los Angeles Collins asked me how to get to a cook and bakers union hall by streetcar.

"Take A Taxi"

"Just take a taxi, George," I told him.

But his budget wouldn't allow it and he carefully jotted down the streetcar directions.

Despite such handicaps as this, George won handsomely in the primaries. He and Ed Roybal, a Democrat who was running for Lt. Governor, got the highest number of votes and things looked encouraging.

As November 2nd approached, small checks from individuals and neighborhood clubs began to roll in. I was on the desk in the Los Angeles headquarters, with the glorified title of Collins Publicity Director for Southern California, and I used to open the envelopes with the enthusiastic messages and the five and ten dollar checks and turn them over to Fay Porter, campaign manager for the Southland.

Fay, a modishly dressed woman with silver hair and bright red lips, a ball of fire on the telephone, used the money for bumper strips, quarter cards and campaign literature. Toward the end we even managed to buy a little television and radio time. But we never had enough. And our Republican opponent had huge billboards, blanket coverage on TV, newspaper support from fost of the big dailies, and money for mailing large numbers of folders using Adlai Stevenson's picture and a quote from one of his speeches that implied the nation's No. 1 Democrat was endorsing George' opponent.

Stevenson Wire

The weekend before election we got a wire from Stevenson endorsing Collins and stating that the use of his photo by the Republicans was not authorized. But the damage was already done. And California, which had a 60 per cent Democratic registration, voted in George's Republican opponent.

All that is ancient history now. But early on election night we didn't anticipate the result. Returns from the East were coming in showing the Democrats leading.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

Stephen Kemalyan opened the 1954-55 Season of the Vista Grande Community Concerts to an enthusiastically responsive audience. From his opening selection by Arne, one of the early English composers, to "The Lord's Prayer" with which he closed his concert, Kemalyan's' artistry and vibrant baritone voice completely captivated his audience. To quote some lines from his first selection, "They only live who life enjoy;" he certainly gave the impression of enjoying life that evening and his audience was enjoying it right along with him.

He chose a familiar program that had something in it for every taste. We particularly enjoyed "In questa tomba oscura," "Dedication" and the drinking song from "Hamlet." The one disappointment of the evening was the "Credo" from "Otello." Possibly it came along a little too early in the concert as his voice sounded as though it hadn't quite warmed up and gave the impression of being forced.

None of Strain

His second operatic selection, the "Prologue" from "Pagliacci" showed none of the strain noted in the earlier aria. It was sung with such beautiful quality of tone that it almost persuaded us to forget the familiarity of the piece. It was much more his type of aria and showed off the dark resonance of his voice to its fullest advantage.

A spatter of applause greeted Kemalyan's announcement that his second group of songs was going to be sung in English. Regular readers of this column are aware that we are in the camp that believes songs should be sung in their original language. Past experience has taught that too often only about every fourth word is intelligible, the rest being left to the imagination, so the point in translating them is lost. An exception must be made in the case of Kemalyan who projected every word with impeccable enunciation.

This was not the only instance of Kemalyan's making us reconsider previous opinions; the other was his choice of encores. Frankly, we groaned quietly to ourselves when he announced that he would sing "Smiling Through" and "Old Man River." However, he brought fresh beauty to those popular favorites and the latter selection deserved the cheers it received.

Kemalyan's Voice

This is quite beside the point, but the next time "Three Coins in the Fountain" comes by, pay particular attention to the brief operatic sequence, featuring a few bars from "The Barber of Seville." The voice you hear is Kemalyan's.

Horace Martinez showed his versatility in his ability to be a fine accompanist and also a very capable soloist.

At one point in the concert Kemalyan thanked everyone for being such a marvelous audience. Of course we all like to be told nice things and like to believe that they are true, but we are positive that this was truth and not flattery, as Thursday night's audience was one of the most attentive and appreciative that we can recall.

If Kemalyan is an example of the fine quality of artist we can expect and if his audience is an example of the enthusiastic response which these artists will receive, the 1945-55 Season will be only the first of many.

ALL PROGRAMS SUBJECT TO CHANGE ● NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR LAST MINUTE SCHEDULING

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

A very grand little lady had a birthday awhile back. MRS. ANNA MEETH of Cavour street was 86 years young. She is an old time resident of Daly City having resided for years on Westlake avenue since 1909 until she went to live with her daughter. She has quite an interesting family background. Her great grandfather, AMARIAH PLUMB, arrived in America in 1634 and settled in Norfolk, Connecticut. He was one of those men to whom we all owe so much who fought for liberty in the Revolutionary war. She also belongs to the Addie Bellue Lodge of the Daughters of the Civil War. A happy birthday is wished Mrs. Meeth from all the folks and many wishes are extended for many future birthdays.

Items of Interest

A big event in the life of a very young man took place last Sunday, Nov. 21st. Little JOHN DOUGLAS HETTEL was christened at a 2 p.m. ceremony at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church with the Rev. John Norman Patrick Paul Allen officiating. Godparents duties were performed by MR. and MRS. CHRISTENSEN, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Hettel. The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of MR. and MRS. JOSEPH COOK, aunt and uncle of the baby. Little John received many beautiful and most useful gifts from all the family and friends who attended. Among the guests were MRS. McKAY, the baby's maternal grandmother and MRS. DOROTHY STEWART a close friend of his mother's for many years.

This shouldn't happen to a visitor. MRS. KEHORA STEVENSON, who is visiting here with her sister MRS. COCHRAN came all the way from Alabama to have a most unfortunate accident. While lighting the oven she was most painfully burned on both arms. While she is much better now she is still doctoring and will in the future leave the lighting of ovens to the rest of the family. One and all wish her a most speedy recovery.

Received a card last week from an old friend who used to live in our town. MRS. CAMILLE CLARK writes, "Enjoy reading your column. It's like visiting with old friends. Our daughter, CAMILLE, known to her Perpetual Help classmates as MIMI, is now attending Holy Names College in Oakland where she is majoring in Social Service Studies. She is a U.S.O. hostess in Walnut Creek and this unit always entertains the Parks Air Force Base boys. Whenever she sees a familiar name in your column as being stationed there she tries to get in touch with them. Say hello to all and especially Dorothy Stewart for me." Thanks Camille, it was good to hear from you. Why not write more often.

More traveling being done by the folks. MRS. JOHN KENYON of Hillside boulevard is leaving us. She is flying to Schenectady, N. Y., and will be gone until after New Years. She should have lots to tell us when she gets back so more will be heard from here then.

Accidents will happen and sometimes they can really be most inconvenient. MR. JESSE ATKINSON of Woodrow street is on the mend but the hand that he mashed at work two months ago is still not good enough for him to return to his job. Like most men he really doesn't enjoy sitting around the house.

Friends in the Woodrow street area are most happy to see the friend and neighbor MRS. KATHLEEN TALBOT again. She is now home from the hospital and very glad to be there. One thing to be said for being ill, one always finds out just how nice the rest of the folks can be when we really need them.

Servicemen

Heard from Korea again this week. LT. KENNETH SANGUINETTI has just arrived in Korea where he will be stationed for the next fourteen months. Ken is a pilot in a U. S. Marine attack squadron and will be one of the fellows who will be ever on the alert there for the safety of us here.

Heard from the Air Force in Nagoya, Japan, where A 3/c EDWARD F. HARPER is stationed at the big Air Force Hospital. Winter is arriving in Japan and the long johns are all the fashion nowadays. He has been to a Japanese home for dinner and found the experience very interesting. So far he hasn't had much time off for sight seeing but as he will be there for more than a year he figures that he has lots of time for that. He says to wish all a most happy Thanksgiving and thanks to all those who have written him.

A 2/c HAROLD "SKIP" AMES of the U. S. Air Forces was a happy young man awhile back. He heard via the mailman that a former buddy of his was to be stationed near him and would arrive in Japan on a certain day. He got the time off and met him when he arrived. These two fellows hadn't seen each other for eighteen months when they had both been stationed at Parks Air Force Base and had to separate after completion of basic training. The world being the small place that it is, they both land within getting together distance of each other. Bet they really had a grand reunion. Fact is I know for sure that they did.

Have you made out your Christmas card list yet? Would you like the name and address of a serviceman here or abroad? Don't forget to include them as they will really mean so much more to them than to the rest of those on your list. Christmas for anyone away from home is bad to begin with but the fact of the folks remembering them helps to ease the sense of loneliness.

News and Views

Leaving us last weekend was MRS. JOHN L. CAPURRO of Hillside boulevard. She went to Los Angeles where she will spend the next month and probably return right after the holidays. All the folks wish her lots of fun and will be anxiously awaiting her return.

Among the folks who will be visiting on the Thanksgiving holiday and for a few days after will be MRS. MAY BAKER of Theta avenue. May is spending the big day plus a few more at the home of her son MR. FRANK VENTURA of Sebastapol.

Next weekend will see a really big event take place at Jefferson High. It is the AQUACADE, a swimming extravanganza, put on by the students of Jeff. Having seen one of these performances before I know that they are really worth going to see. As has happened in the past many of the folks will wait until the last moment to get tickets and will be too late. After all folks, the seating is limited so don't forget to get yours early. If you don't know any one who is selling them just phone me and I can tell you.

Having a birthday last week was MISS DOLLY CASTELLANO of Santa Cruz avenue. This very popular Jeffersonite was seventeen and enjoyed the day with a big dinner with family and friends. Many happy birthdays are wished Dolly by all the rest of the folks.

Once more, and this will be the last, here is a reminder of the fun you can have at the O.L.P.H. MOTHER'S CLUB BAZAAR on Sunday, December 5. There will be games and booths to attract one and all, then of course any of the ladies who would like to get away from cooking can just plan to have dinner up there. The children will all have a grand time too as there are special booths for them. Remember folks, the ladies of the club have worked long and hard to make this event a success and it is up to the rest of us to see that it really goes over. After all their work and effort is for the benefit of your children and mine so—SEE YOU AT THE BAZAAR.

More of the neighbors are moving. MR. and MRS. RAYMOND PRICE of Evergreen who have been our neighbors for several years have decided to leave us. They are packing up their belongings plus two children who will be missed by their classmates and the new baby and are moving down the peninsula. Much happiness is wished them in their new home.

Among the folks who deserted the kitchen of home for the Thanksgiving Day dinner were MR. and MRS. ED EMERSON. They spent the day with their daughter and her family who also was hostess to NELLIE and JOSEPH GARGAN. A most enjoyable day was had by all followed by a visit from friends in the evening.

Well, folks, that is the news for this week. Have had lots of fun hearing from people and one in particular without whom I just couldn't get along. Remember the phone is still PL. 5-6482 and I'll be waiting to hear from you. Old friends are the ones I haven't heard from for awhile so why not give me a ring. I'll be waiting. 'Bye Now.

Leaks As Well As Burns

Many an automobile gets a reputation with its owner as being an oil burner when such a reputation is fully unjustified, according to the National Automobile Club. Much of the oil that some motorists assume to be burned is lost through leakage due to looseness around the crankcase, gasket breaks, and the like.

Eagles to Hold Xmas Party for Veterans

At the last regular meeting of the Eagles Auxiliary it was agreed upon by the members to carry out the tentative plans that were made to hold a Christmas party for some of the veterans at Letterman hospital.

This will be the fifth consecutive year the Auxiliary has put on such a program. Mrs. Lee O'Niell, chairman, and Mrs. Alberta Diebel, her assistant, go to the hospital once a month, with their committee, on behalf of the Auxiliary, and distribute cookies among the patients of their regular assigned ward.

The Christmas party will be something special, Mrs. O'Niell announced, as they plan to go in the evening and provide entertainment and refreshments. The refreshments will be in the form of homemade cakes, ice cream, coffee and boxes of Christmas candy.

The auxiliary also plans to present gifts of filled gaily colored Christmas bags to the patients in the S1 Ward.

Mrs. Diebel announced the bags will be filled with an assortment of the following articles: All types of toilet articles, men's and women's handkerchiefs, men's gaily colored socks, cigarettes, candy, gum, oranges and apples.

The Auxiliary announced that anyone wishing to donate any articles which will help to make the party a success may contact either Mrs. O'Niell at PL. 5-4068 or Mrs. Diebel at DE. 3-8731 before Dec. 10. Sharp edged articles cannot be accepted.

City Denies Claim For Vehicle Damages

Claim asking $49.36 for damages allegedly done to a private citizen's vehicle by a city truck was ordered denied by the city council Monday night.

Henry Ziegele, 196 Irvington street, claimed that October 13, 1954, a city truck struck his vehicle at the intersection of Irvington and Templeton streets.

After denying the claim, the council referred it to city attorney Frank Blum.

Launch Campaign In SM County For "Toys For Tots"

Members of the Peninsula Marine Corps Reserve units today launched their annual "Toys for Tots" program, determined that all less fortunate children in the San Mateo county area will receive gifts of toys at Christmas.

Daly City Elementary school students will be among the nine county cities participating in the Christmas cheer drive.

Assisting in the distribution of the toys are the various city and county welfare agencies and the civic and church groups conducting Christmas gift programs. This is the third year for "Toys for Tots" in this area.

Major John L. Watts of 1674 Ralston avenue, Belmont, commanding officer of the 1st tank company, United States Marine Corps Reserve located in San Bruno, said the toy collections will be made from the pupils of Daly City elementary schools on December 15th and 16th.

"We're appealing for new toys, or used toys in good condition," Major Watts said. "Unfortunately, we do not have the time to repair or re-condition the toys."

In the 1953 "Toys for Tots" drive, 30,000 toys were collected and distributed.

Local Man On Legion Amateur Radio Com'sn.

Herschel Satterfield, 644 Niantic avenue, Daly City, has been appointed to the Amateur Radio Comission of the Department of California, the American Legion, to serve a three year term, State Commander Malcolm Champlin announced today.

The duties of the Amateur Radio Commission consist of assistance in the development of amateur radio and, to that end, to establish an amateur radio chain among volunteer radio enthusiasts.

See it today!..the exciting New
1955 DESOTO

With all its power the accent is on STYLE!

Fresh, modern style sets the pace for the longer, lower (barely 5 feet) 1955 De Soto. Style in the gleaming bigness of its new grille—along the clean, taut body lines—in the massive New Horizon full wrap-around windshield. This fresh, vibrant style extends inside, too. Luxury in the feel of new fabrics—hearty vinyls and soft leathers—all blending with the gay interior color schemes. De Soto's "Dual-Cockpit" instrument panel is modern, beautiful. The "Flite Control" gear selector lever is mounted on the dash. And to power this '55 De Soto are two new V-8 engines: 200 horsepower in the new Fireflite series and 185 horsepower in the Firedome series—now selling at a new, low price. Today, drive the car that's STYLED FOR TOMORROW—THE '55 DE SOTO!

Safety News

S-D DAY. The Challenge.

The traffic accident problem is a national one, a community one, and one that concerns each individual. Every person in the United States probably has a neighbor, a friend, or a member of the family who was injured in a traffic accident at some time. The traffic problem is with us every hour of every day, everywhere in the nation, as the following facts make clear:

The Death Toll.—Last year, we Americans killed one person on the average EVERY 14 MINUTES, around the clock and throughout the year. The total 1953 death toll: 38,300.

The Injury Toll.—In 1953, there was an injury in traffic approximately EVERY 23 SECONDS. A total of 1,350,000 persons were injured to the point where they were disabled beyond the day of the accident. For every fatality, one or more persons was totally and permanently disabled, thereby becoming a financial burden, either to his family, or to the community or both.

The Economic Toll.—The price of traffic accidents in 1953 in terms of money is estimated to have been $4 billion, including medical expense, property loss and other costs. This is almost five times as much as all fire losses in the United States during the same year.

The Killer-Traffic accidents last year were the greatest single killer of farm people (excluding death from natural causes). They were a big killer of children in early school years, and of young people between the ages of 15 and 24. They killed 21,500 workers—almost twice as many as were killed in occupational accidents not involving motor vehicles.

Four Special Meets To Boost Scouting On Sked Next Week

Four special meetings to promote cub scouting and boy scouting in Daly City are scheduled for next week. Second meetings for the organization of new troops at Westlake and Colma schools are set for Monday and Tuesday nights, respectively, both at 7:30 p.m., and both being held at the schools concerned, under the chairmanship of district executive Maurice Powers. Both meetings are follow-ups for preliminary meetings held this week, both of which were well attended by interested boys and parents.

Also on Tuesday night will be a meeting of Boy Scout troop 248, at the Westlake Clubhouse, at 8 p.m. This meeting will be under the chairmanship of district organization chairman Ernest McAvoy, with regular members of troop 248 and their parents invited, plus an additional list of about ten new boys. McAvoy will introduce to troop 248 Westlake residents Alfred O. Belotz and Ralph Gumbinger, both of whom have expressed interest in assisting with the leadership of a Boy Scout troop. Belotz is a former scoutmaster and neighborhood commissioner.

On Wednesday night, a special committee of Westlake men who are working on the development of scouting in that part of Daly City will meet in the Henry Doelger offices at 7:45 p.m. This group met a month ago, with next Wednesday's meeting for the purpose of reporting interest of prospective sponsoring bodies and progress in the formation of new troops and packs. George Paldi of Westlake is chairman of this group, which meets in Mr. Jack Kendree's office.

Mark Beginning Of Church Year At Bethel Lutheran

At Bethel Lutheran church, Alemany boulevard and Huron avenue, the beginning of the church year with the Advent Season, will be observed Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock. The Christian church has set aside the four weeks before Christmas in preparation for the coming of the Savior. A number of men and women who have completed the course on church membership will be received into the Lutheran church, and the congregation by the rite of confirmation. The Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will preach on the subject: "Behold Your Salvation Comes."

Sunday school is conducted at 9:30 o'clock. The adult Bible class, which meets at the same hour, is following the course of study entitled: "Practical Christianity."

Thanksgiving day will be observed with a special service Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The Junior Choir, under the direction of Miss Gladys Schultz, will render special Thanksgiving selections.

BROADMOOR'S FIRST FATALITY IS HORSE

Broadmoor's first auto accident fatality of 1954 was registered Sunday at 6 p.m. on Junipero Serra boulevard near the San Pedro road intersection.

The victim was a nine-year-old palamino riding horse, owned by Joseph Stagnaro, 1876 Junipero Serra.

According to police, Stagnaro had the animal tied to a hitching post when the horse suddenly bolted and ran across the boulevard.

Morris Richard Wickersham, 39, of 109 Adrian, South San Francisco, who was driving north on Junipero Serra, said he was unable to stop as the horse reared in front of his vehicle.

The animal was so severely injured it had to be disposed of. Wickersham's auto received damages to the front end.

Westlake Couple Charge Soldier With Rape Count

A 25-year-old Ft. Ord soldier was arrested Sunday by Monterey county authorities on charges that he committed statutory rape on a 17-year-old Westlake girl who was a student at Jefferson High school.

The youth, Francis Marchi, who in civilian life lives in San Francisco with his grandparents, was released the same day on $1500 bail.

According to complainants in the case, the girls' parents, the statutory rape allegedly occurred April 19 while they were away from home.

Parents of the girl charge that their daughter is now pregnant and Marchi has refused to marry her.

Marchi is scheduled to be arraigned in municipal court Tuesday morning.

SERIES OF MIDWEEK SERVICES SET FOR HOPE LUTHERAN

A series of three evening midweek services will be held during December by Hope Lutheran church in the Broadmoor community center. The Rev. Louis C. Marting, pastor of Hope church, will deliver a series of Advent meditations. One of the purposes of these advent services is to give the people of this community the opportunity to prepare themselves spiritually for the Christmas season.

The first service will be held on Wednesday evening, December 1, 7 p.m.

The Advent season traditionally is the beginning of the new church year and, similar to Lent, is a penitential period designed to turn men's hearts to the work of the Savior.

I was feeling, to put it mildly, somewhat jubilant.

Collins shared his headquarters with Richard Richards, candidate for state senator. Early returns showed Dick running a little behind and his supporters were rather grim-faced. It didn't seem right for me to be prancing around grinning so with some friends I went to the Biltmore Hotel, where another Democratic candidate, George Arnold, who was running for Congress, had rented a ballroom. Here I met more friends and we continued our celebration until it became obvious that Arnold was going to lose.

Intent On Food

There was to much gloom at the Biltmore. We moved on to the State Democratic headquarters, where a huge mob seemed more intent on the sandwiches and coffee than on the returns.

For several hours I hadn't obtained any new figures on Collins' race so our enlarged party set off for the Hall of Justice, where the L. A. county figures were being tabulated.

En route we stopped at Republican headquarters to see a friend of mine, a writer with Democratic leanings who had hired himself out to the Republicans for twice the sum I was getting and who had tried to persuade me to do likewise. He wasn't around, probably having decided that his contract didn't require his taking part in the GOP celebration.

At the County Registrar of Voters all was tension and regulated confusion. I had to identify myself as campaign manager, a slight exaggeration, before I could get my friends into the restricted area where the TV cameras were set up and the latest returns were posted.

It was while we were here that the tide turned against Collins. The first eleven bulletins showed him running ahead. On the 12th he was a few votes behind. By the 15th bulletin he was a thousand votes behind in L. A. county.

"Doesn't Mean A Thing"

"Doesn't mean a thing," I told my friends. "He's better known up around San Francisco and his votes there will make up the difference."

But deep down I knew better. Los Angeles county with five million population was heavily Democratic and if George couldn't carry this county I felt that he couldn't win.

By 2 a.m. the next morning the worst had been established.

Several days have passed since then and I've caught up on my sleep and once more have leisure for these essays.

But if George D. Collins Jr. wants to run for some other office, I stand ready to suspend the column once again in his cause. For George is a good man.

Not many candidates can truly say they never made a deal or a secret committment in order to get campaign funds. But George can. He's honest to the core, with no strings attached.

Show Free Movies For Bayshore School Kids

Free movies for the children of Bayshore and Midway Village school will be held next Friday, December 3, according to Mrs. Thomas McNamara, Bayshore PTA publicity chairman.

This was decided at their meeting on November 17. At that time Mrs. N. G. Jones was appointed chairman of the Christmas party, which will be held on December 17.

Faculty members were hostesses for the meeting, and movies of Bayshore school children were shown.

At the next regular meeting on December 14, Mrs. Clara Sirex, past president of the 17th district, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Muriel Vint will present her music pupils singing Christmas carols. The 4th grade pupils will present a skit. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school library.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Urges Trailer Court Approval By Citizens

Dear Editor:

Having heard that those asking for a permit to put a trailer court at Brunswick street and Hillside boulevard have argued that from every standpoint, it is the only feasible development for the property, and that they would welcome any suggestions for a better one.

I became curious enough to look over the plans and the property, and to my surprise, I came to the same conclusion.

A full explanation of my reasons would be rather lengthy. Therefore, I suggest that those interested in what sort of development is carried out as well as the elimination of the unsightly conditions now existing there, should look over the situation as I did and satisfy themselves that this type of development is in our best interest in more ways than one.

Very truly yours,
Wm. A. Degliantoni

TOT TREATED AFTER SWALLOWING POISON

One-year-old Elizabeth Petros, laughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Petros, 40 Lynnewood drive, was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital by Broadmoor police ambulance Saturday morning after swallowing an undetermined amount of insecticide powder.

After having her stomach pumped, the girl was reported out of danger and was released from the hospital.

SANTA CLAUS TO LEAD PTA BAZAAR PARADE

Library Fund Effort Opens 9 a.m. Dec. 4.

Santa Claus sometimes arrives by reindeer, sometimes by cable car, sometimes by helicopter, sometimes by choo choo train, but on Saturday, December 4, Santa Claus will arrive at the Westlake Carnival-Bazaar by hay wagon, Westlake PTA announces.

With Santa Claus, the carnival King and Queen, the decorated bikes, wagons, and other wheel toys, the parade will assemble at 9 a.m. in two sections. One section will be lead down Southgate avenue from Skyline, the other from Skyline down North Mayfair escorted by fire engine and hay wagon. The two sections will meet at the Park Plaza drive crossing where a police escort will be waiting. Upon arrival at carnival headquarters at Westlake school at 10 a.m. the show will officially open.

Urge Attendance

Carnival chairman Mrs. Robert Woods urges the public to attend the Carnival Bazaar for a day of fun. Celebrities will be on the stage of the multi-purpose room all through the day. In addition to children's television celebrities Chris Cuts and Lucille Bliss, Barbara McRitchie of "Join the Gang," will appear in the afternoon.

Adults, as well as children, are invited to play the carnival games of skill and to meet the mayor, Joe Verducci, and the Daly City council, who, with civic worker Peter Markovich will man the coke bottle game. Daly City Junior Chamber of Commerce members will operate a game booth. The American Legion members will be at the chuck wagon, while the Westlake Catholic Women will be at the ice cream and sundries booth.

At the photo booth, pictures will be taken with newest press type camera, the Omega 120. Three sizes will be available, 4x5, 5x7 and 8x10, with folders included. Cameramen Sal Siciliano and Dick Parades are expert photographers, according to the PTA. Siciliano is a member of the board of directors and a past president of the Westwood movie club, the largest photo club in the area. Parades is president of the Westlake Camera Club and does portrait work.

Reservations

Reservations for the spaghetti dinner may be made by calling Mrs. Fred Kruse, PL. 5-2988, or by stopping at the book booth this Saturday. Deadline for reservations is Tuesday, November 30.

Members of the Westlake Catholic Women who will serve in the ice cream booth are the Mesdames David Geoffrion, Michael Egan Jr., Ludger Camp, William Brown, Robert Martini, Lawrence Muller, Edward O'Donnell, Roland Galli, Albert Biancalana Jr., Edward Molkenbuhr Jr., Miss Marie Forcina and Mrs. Margaret Short.

The Westlake PTA, which is leading the campaign for the children's library, promises a day of fun for everyone on December 4. They ask that a share the ride program be put into effect and that a neighbor family be invited to come along when heading for the Carnival Bazaar.

Commercial fish landings in the 1952-53 California season totaled 694,976,000 pounds with an estimated value of $71,982,774.

WHAT'S DOING

Thomas R. Gilbert, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

A $1 telephone call saves farmer $400

Gus Holman, pointing, is one farmer who really appreciates his telephone. He and his brother farm 227 acres of rice and other grains near Butte Four Corners, Calif. Not long ago, they needed a tractor fast. They couldn't find one nearby at the price they wanted to pay. So they went to their telephone. With one call, they found just what they wanted . . . and saved $400. Cost of the call: $1. "Our telephone pays us back a lot more in time and money saved than it costs us," says Mr. Holman. And that's the aim of telephone people everywhere—to bring you the good service you need to get things done quickly and easily . . . and to bring it to you at prices easy on your pocketbook. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Portable telephones—like having a telephone in every room

Yes, you can carry your portable extension telephone with you everywhere you go in and around the house. In the kitchen, upstairs, or even out on the patio, all you do is plug your portable telephone into a conveniently located outlet. There's just a small nominal installation charge for each outlet. And you can order as many as you want. The portable telephone itself costs no more than the charge for an ordinary extension—just pennies a day. And, with enough outlets it's like having a telephone in every room. You can order your portable telephones at your Pacific Telephone business office.

IT'S ALL IN A DAY'S WORK

Yes, it was all in a day's work for three Pacific Telephone operators last November 5th when they teamed up to save a San Francisco woman from suicide.

On that date at 7:28 A.M. Mrs. Virginia Gardner, 355 Octavia Street, placed a long distance call to Plains, Texas. Mrs. Mary Fahr, 28, of 211 Gough Street, an operator with 7 years service, handled the call; but, when the Texas party answered, Mrs. Fahr could get no response from Mrs. Gardner. She did, however, hear heavy breathing over the line. She referred the call to her superior, operator Mrs. Theresa McElroy, 32, of 75 Gough Street, who in turn called in the assistant chief operator, Mrs. Clara Carey, 55, of 367 Paris Street.

Police were notified, and the line was kept open until they arrived at the Gradner apartment. The police asked that an ambulance be called. Mrs. Gardner was rushed to Central Emergency Hospital where she was revived.

NO FOOLIN'—This 100-pound whopper of a sturgeon, taken Recently by David Barulich, 143 Abbott avenue, had to be smacked on the head 15 times with a baseball bat before it could be boated by Barulich and his fishing companion, Frank Carney. Hooking the leviathin while angling for stripers in the slough waters off Antioch, Barulich battled the hulking fish for nearly 45 mintes before landing it. After getting the fish to the boat, the stubborn sturgeon still managed to pull the fishermen's craft for almost a half mile. The sturgeon, first to be taken by Barulich, weighed an even 100 pounds and measured 6', 1".

Seven Bout Ring Card On Tap Thursday

A seven-bout card Thursday, capped by a battle between Luis Molina and Bill Orais, leading North American amateur lightweight contenders, will mark the second local fight presentation in the OLPH Men's club efforts to regain Daly City's stature as a "fight town."

Santa Clara's Molina, who upset North American amateur lightweight champ L. C. Gage in last month's feature event at the initial community center OLPH program, is ranked dead even with the 135-pound Philipino youth from Hunter's Point Athletic club. Molina, a Santa Clara Youth Center product, is undefeated in 15 ring encounters. Orais has taken 20 of 22 tests, most of his wins by the knockout route.

A Re-Match

The Molina-Orais titanic will actually be a re-match, since four months ago the pair fought to a four-round draw. Molina came off the canvas and rallied to gain an even break with the judges.

Semi-wind up Thursday will find Jimmy Buccallato facing Ricky Smith in the 160-pound division. Buccallato appeared in last month's OLPH program, gaining a decision over Hank Casey after failing to put Casey to the canvas despite a half a dozen vicious wallops.

Another battler will make a return appearance Thursday as Al Conley pairs off with Ernie Guzman in a 135-pound special event. Conley, displaying plenty of boxing finesse, edged Joe Arroya last month in a decision that was greeted with mixed reaction, ranging from cheers to catcalls. Matchmakers had hoped to rematch Arroyo and Conley but the former has turned pro since the October encounter.

Moon Returns

Another returnee will be Bill Moon, who meets Louie Altrano in the 150-pound category.

Moon registered a TKO over Mike Kuokotis in the second round of the October program.

Also a repeat performer will be Bob Gayton, who tangles with Terry Smith in the 145-pound division. Gayton started slow last month against Willie Moffatt but started throwing haymakers in the final round to win the decision.

Hank Casey, loser in the Buccallato fray last month, will meet Snider Garland at the 150-pound weight.

Of particular interest to local fans will be the 160-pound go, where Daly City lad Harry Benavente meets Henry Callahan. It will be Benavente's initial amateur bout while Callahan is also a comparative greenhorn in the ring.

Veteran boxer Fred Apostoli has tentatively been scheduled as referee for the bouts. Ring officials will be the same as at last month's card.

Bouts start at 8 p.m. and tickets may be purchased at the door.

GATOR DEFENSE HOLDS ON SIX INCH LINE TO GIVE SFS FAR WESTERN LEAGUE TITLE

San Francisco State's Golden Gators won the Far Western Conference championship Friday night in Cox Stadium, defeating Chico State 7 to 6.

Fullback Bob Rodrigo's conversion was the margin of victory. Chico lost its attempt for one point with a 15-yard penalty for illegal procedure that forced Quarterback Hal Higgins to try a pass and it was incomplete.

Chico scored its touchdown on the second play after the kickoff when Halfback Mike Adams, starting from his own 28-yard line, ran inside his right end, got a key block from End George Maderos, broke into the clear, and outran the San Francisco secondary 72 yards into the end zone.

Tie Score

The Golden Gators, coached by Daly City Mayor Joe Verducci, tied the score with 26 seconds left on the clock for the first half. The San Franciscans drove 80 yards, principally on line drives of five to 10 yards by Halfbacks Harry Bremond and Dick Nave, a 28-yard jaunt by Bremond, a pass from Quarterback Hoot Ellis to Bob Springer who lateralled to Bremond for 20 yards, and a five-yard pass from Ellis to Bremond for the touchdown.

San Francisco's spectacular aerial attack, largely responsible for seven previous victories, was ineffective against Chico and practically abandoned. Ellis attempted only seven passes, completed two, and had two intercepted.

Chico's ends, Maderos and Mose Mastellotto, kept it under wraps, seldom letting the Gators spring pass receivers clear.

But, between the ends, the Golden Gators were in command, and that is where the game was won.

Center Larry Conover, Guards Jesse Jones and Roy Nonella, and Tackles Jesse Jones and Dick McKenzie opened huge holes into which Bremond, Nave, Rodrigo and Fullback Virgil Owens ran freely. San Francisco gained 217 yards on the ground to Chico's 133, the latter including Adams' 72-yarder. The Gators earned 11 first downs, Chico seven.

Defense Breaks Through

Defensively, the Gator line consistently broke through that of the visiting team to bring down ball carriers behind the scrimmage line. Rodrigo, Bremond and End Bob Barron were also brilliant on defense.

With only two minutes left in the game, Chico recovered a San Francisco fumble on S. F.'s 45 and Substitute Quarterback Don Ray completed two passes for a first and goal on the Gators' eight. Three plays put the ball on the San Francisco six-inch line but the Gator line held on fourth down.

The contest was witnessed by 6,200 fans who cheered themselves hoarse as the close contest progressed.

At intermission, the 60-piece Chico band paraded on the field and the San Francisco State rooting section spelled out "Hi Chico" on cards.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN STUDENT COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEET

By Marjorie Tobias
Principal

The Student Council at Benjamin Franklin school held its first meeting to elect a chairman as well as to discuss various student problems, on a primary level, as an impetus to making the student body recognize the need and importance in participating in school policy making and citizenship growth.

Eddie Muller was elected chairman and Sally Harding co-chairman.

School colors were suggested and voted upon by the Student Council. "Gold and Silver" was the choice. Publishing a school paper at intervals was another topic discussed. The representatives from each room took to their own rooms topics discussed at the meeting as well as voting for the name of the school paper "Benjamin Franklin News," which was the first grade's choice, and received the greatest number of votes.

Watch for the first holiday edition of the Benjamin Franklin News, written by the Benjamin Franklin student body.

will be awarded to the owners of the three most attractively lighted homes by impartial judges.

Awards will be based on originality, rather than elaborate displays. All decorating should be completed by Sunday, December 19, as judging will be done during the week before Christmas.

Anyone desiring additional information may contact Mrs. John Dahlquist, 135 Shell street, FL. 5-2860.

LOCAL VERSION "BIG GAME" FINDS EAGLES BUCS ANNEXING GRID TITLES

In a local version to the "Big Game" Saturday at Marchbanks park underdog Colma Eagles capitalized on a pair of pass interceptions to topple Dan Curtain's powerful Colma Rebel club, 16-0, and annex the 1954 Recreation Football league "A" title.

Coach John Belforte's Eagles never had the league toga safely secured until the closing minutes of the game, as Ross Holmgren snagged his second crucial interception of the day and set up a game-cinching score for his team.

Following Pete Garcia's opening kickoff to the Rebels five versatile Dan Burley engineered a 25-yard march on successive run and pass plays. Stopped for two ground plays, Burley reverted to the aerial attack on third down. He lofted a 40-yard toss aimed at Dan Rix which Holmgren snared, and moved to his own 45-yard line behind a key block by Steve Oppermann. Moving into Rebel territory, Holmgren cut to the sidelines, picked up a four-man battery of effective blockers who proceeded him the other 50 yards into the end zone. John Mullen, Garcia, Rich Mollinson and Dick Curry formed Holmgren's touchdown cordon.

Lock Helmets

Following this early first quarter score, the two teams locked helmets defensively and it was not until late in the fourth quarter that Eagles picked up more points. The Eagles' Garcia, Mollinson, Curry, Mike Wells and George Petrouffski put up a forward wall that was equally matched by the Rebel contingent of Lynne Atteberry, Dom Aiello, Charles Cooke and Bob Steele.

Punting by both Burley and Garcia was a factor in keeping the contest at an offensive stalemate for nearly three periods.

Mollinson Rips Thru

With two minutes remaining in the game the Eagles picked up two points that for all purposes put the opponents out of distance. Rebels had taken over on their own two-yard-line after an Eagle punt. On the first play from scrimmage Mollinson powered his way through the Rebel front line and trapped Rix in the end zone, for two big Eagle points.

On the ensuing punt the Rebels filled the air with desperation passes. On the third aerial Holmgren again pulled off a neat theft, returning from his own territory to the Rebel 40. A sustained passing attack, with Oppermann throwing strikes to Holmgren and Garcia, brought the ball to the Rebel five. From here Oppermann nailed Mollinson in the end zone for the final score, wrapping up the championship.

The anti-climactical conversion attempt found Oppermann successfully hitting Holmgren for the one-pointer.

In addition to those already mentioned, others turning in sterling performances Saturday included Larry Schoenfeldt, and James Aher for the Rebels.

Giants "B" Champs

Class "B" championship went to OLPH Giants, as they turned back Ed Heick's Broadmoor Bucs, 15-7, after trailing seven points in early moments of the game.

The Bucs' Web Parker intercepted a Bill Whalen pass in the opening minutes and dashed deceptively to the six-point territory. The conversion was good on a Jim Heick to Bob Goodwin aerial.

The Bucs, anxious to hold their lead, stiffened their defense and boxed the opposition ends, giving all indication that their lone seven points might be enough to do the job.

The Giants managed to move within one point later in the game on a Whalen to Frank Watts pass. The conversion was missed.

A few plays later Rick Craig loomed out of nowhere as the Bucs had their backs to their own goal posts, nailing Heick in the end zone for two more points and the lead.

Whalen Hits Lycett

Only two minutes remained on the clock when Whalen again launched a successful series of ozone plays, culminating with a toss to Ed Lycett that was good for the TD. Whalen hit John Vinal for the conversion.

SECOND RENO TREK SLATED BY LIONS

Another one-night foray at the gaming tables of Reno has been announced by the Daly City-Colma Lions.

The excursion will be held December 15 when Lions and guests board a Pan-American DC-4 at 6 p.m., arriving in Reno an hour later.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will be enjoyed, followed by a joust at the gaming devices. The party will board the home-bound plane at 2 a.m. the following morning.

Sixty persons will make the trip, last of the year for the local Lions. Next journey is tentatively set for March, 1955.

Eagles Again Share Keg League Lead

Sweeping their three-game series over 101 Club, Daly City Eagles moved back into a tie for first place in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league at Brentwood Tuesday.

They share the lead with Apple Tree Rest, each having 23-10 marks.

Top team performance was turned in Tuesday by Vince & Fred, who rolled a 2742 series from scratch, a new high for this season.

Vince & Fred's Babe De Luca turned in high individual series with a 620.

Tom Gantert of the Marketeers was second high for the night with a 586 trio.

In addition to Daly City Eagles triple killing, other teams turning in three wins were Daly City-Colma Lions and John Grill.

INDIANS FINALLY WIN ONE -- TIP LOWLY CARLMONT HI ELEVEN 20-0

After a long, dry spell of seven straight losses, Jefferson High school's varsity football club found the key to victory in a winless Carlmont team Friday, upending the Scots, 20-0.

The locals, for once, had things their own way as they tallied in the first quarter after a Scot fumble deep in Carlmont territory.

The Carlmont defense staved off the Jeff touchdown threat for two series of downs but succumbed on the third drive as Jim Honeywell bounded over from the two following a 29-yard pass play.

Al Eeger powered his way into the end zone for the extra point.

It wasn't until the third period that the Indians hit the scoreboard trail again. Pile-driver Seger again smacked over into the end zone from two yards out after a 79-yard offensive march by the Jeffs. Seger made good the second conversion attempt as he boomed through the line again.

A dismal Highlander punt gave the Jeffs their third scoring opportunity of the afternoon as the Scot boot rolled feebly to their own 25-yard line. It took only three plays for the Jefferson machine to power over for six more markers. Jim Honeywell climaxed the trio of plays as he broke through center for six yards and the score. Honeywell missed the PAT.

Honeywell finally found himself on the ground, unleashing an individual total of 98 yards for a 5.4 average.

The win, first for the Indians, moved them one rung out of the Peninsula Athletic league cellar, ahead of Carlmont, who haven't been successful in seven attempts.
